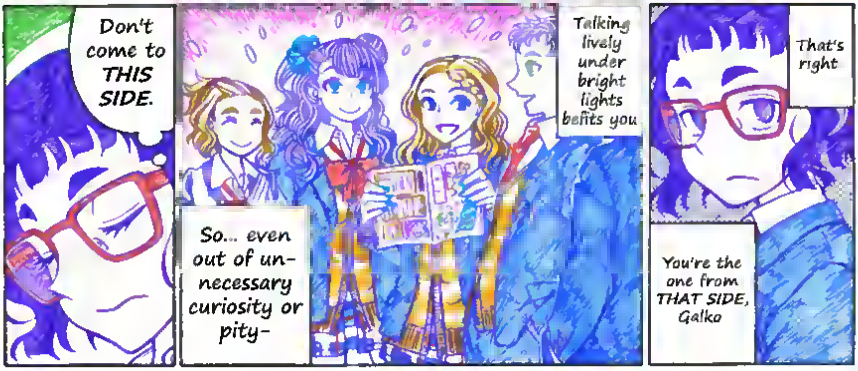
Oka-y
Hurry up and choose a book for your report!
Hey, why are you so noisy!
I get that a lot.
Hmm
I thought you kinda resambled her a little, so it's because you're actually sisters!
Ama-zing!



Don't come to THIS SIDE.
So... even out of un-necessary curiosity or pity-
Talking lively under bright lights befits you
That's right
You're the one from THAT SIDE, Galko

Galko's Big Sis Galko's older sister. She's very famous and left a number of legends in her region, because of her well-proportioned looks, vitality and uninhibited character, even back in elementary school. Now she's in college and works as a model for Gyaru magazines. The sisters are close, though her recent worry are her boyfriend's strange tastes.

Abe-sen The class' homeroom teacher, whose subject is Modern Japanese. His usual attitude is curt, but he's very caring and worries a lot. In his previous school, he was a homeroom teacher of Eiko's big sis' class, when she was still a student. Since he wants to guide and counsel, life-and-death struggles took place between the two.

You can take it without water.

I'll take you to the INFIRMARY.
-take you to the infirmary.
Abe-sen, despite his attitude, is really freakin' caring So, if you told him that you're not feeling well, he'd probably-Feeling bad?
What's wrong, are you
Hmm -
You lied about the bathroom.
How come you didn't tell the teacher?
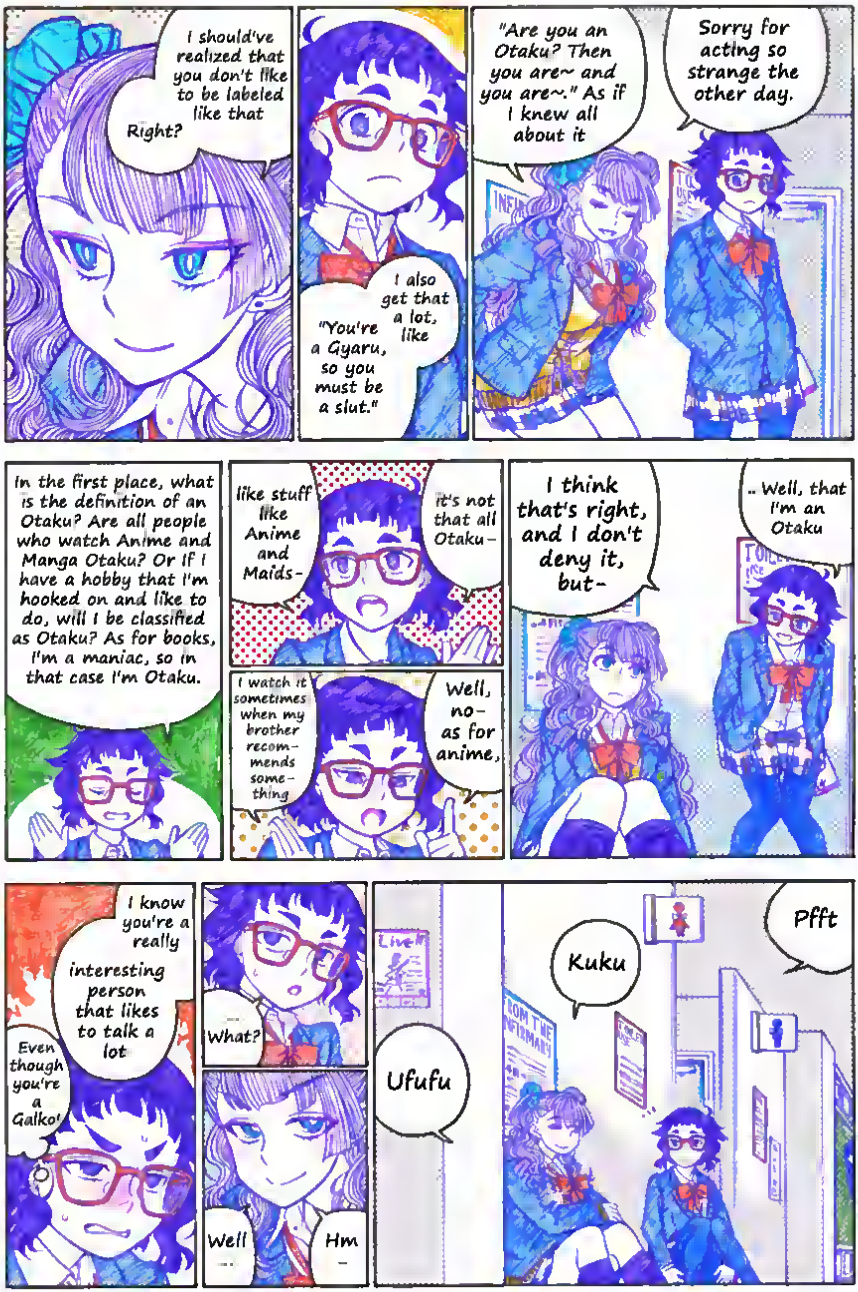
Do you dislike overly friendly Gyaru girls as well?
...I don't
I thought that maybe you don't like being worried about too much.



Sorry for acting so strange the other day.
"Are you an Otaku? Then you are~ and you are~." As if I knew all about it
I also get that a lot, like "You're a Gyaru, so you must be a slut."
I should've realized that you don't like to be labeled like that Right?
.. Well, that I'm an Otaku
I think that's right, and I don't deny it, but-it's not that all Otaku-
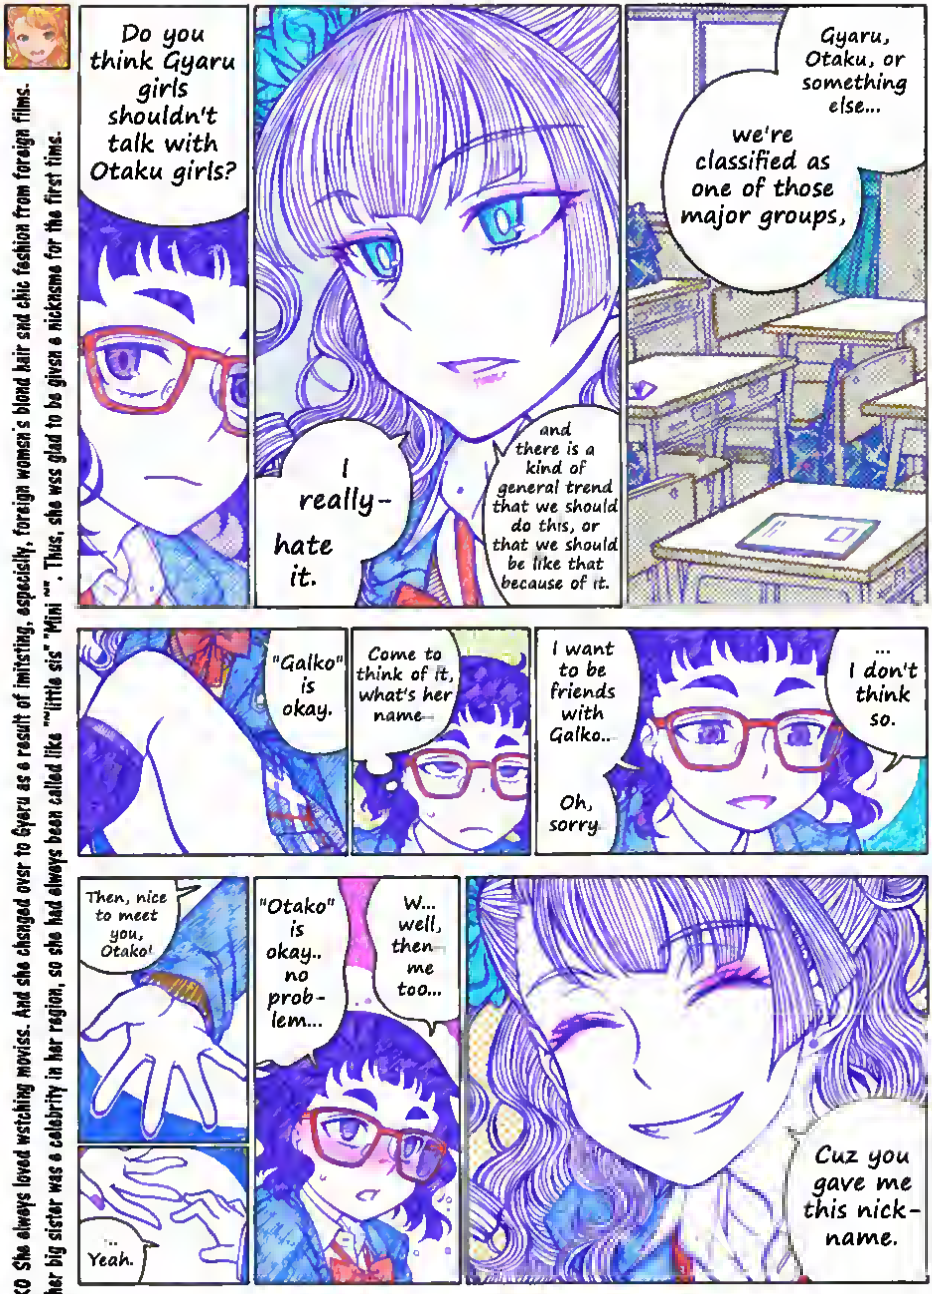
like stuff like Anime and Maids-
Well, no- as for anime,
I watch it sometimes when my brother recommends something
In the first place, what is the definition of an Otaku? Are all people who watch Anime and Manga Otaku? Or if I have a hobby that I'm hooked on and like to do, will I be classified as Otaku? As for books, I'm a maniac, so in that case I'm Otaku.
Pfft
Kuku
Ufufu
What?
Hm
Well
I know you're a really interesting person that likes to talk a lot
Even though you're a Galko!

Otaku She was often absent from school and stayed at home as a sickly child. She spent that time reading books bought for her, and foraging for more from her brother's bookshelf. It led her to be a bookworm and shy around people, so she rarely talks to classmates. She gains erotic knowledge mainly from books she usually reads.



Do you think Gyaru girls shouldn't talk with Otaku girls?
I really- hate it.
and there is a kind of general trend that we should do this, or that we should be like that because of it.
we're classified as one of those major groups,
Gyaru, Otaku, or something else...
"Galko" is okay.
Come to think of it, what's her name
I want to be friends with Galko..
Oh, sorry
... I don't think so.
Then, nice to meet you, Otako!
... Yeah.
"Otako" is okay.. no problem...
W... well, then me too...
Cuz you gave me this nickname.

Galko She always loved watching movies. And she changed over to Gyaru as a result of imitating, especially, foreign women's blond hair and chic fashion from foreign films. But her big sister was a celebrity in her region, so she had always been called like ""little sis" "Mini "". Thus, she was glad to be given a nickname for the first time.

Next update will be posted on October 24th (Fri.), With Special illustrations!!

Ojou She was in elite private schools (elementary, junior high and high school) before, she has transferred t. this school this spring. Teachers trust her, because her grades are top-class and her behavior is good. Abe-san asked her to go see the other two, because they weren't coming back.
